Missional Urban Fusion: Planting The Gospel in 21st Century America Rev. Chris McNairy

The book is a thorough examination of America's urban fusion landscape and getting our missional heads around the worldview challenges of our present day society. There are two major drivers of the dynamic (not static) American mission field in the 21st century: Urbanization and Immigration and they have made and continue to make America like no other place on the planet. These two processes create an "urban peoples fusion" mission field environment that should cause us to look at how we approach planting the Gospel, making disciples, church growth, and church multiplication. The primary purposes of this book are: • To help in understanding what's happening in 21st century America around, in and to us as we join God on mission • To facilitate crucial and difficult conversations about kingdom work in America's 21st century urban fusion mission field. • To assist in getting disciples off the bench and making kingdom impact. • To challenge mainstream churches and other entities about missional relevance and building God's church not empire expansion. In essence, this book is written to jump start a conversation on American missions.
